Holiday Is Homecoming Day Here

Spirit Of True Thanksgiving Stands Out In City's Observance

Thanksgiving—perhaps the most loved of all traditional American holidays, brought warmth and friendliness into Sierra Madre homes this week, and into the hearts of those who spent the day out-of-town with relatives or friends. Everywhere the spirit of true thankfulness prevailed at festive gatherings.

One of the largest family parties attended by Sierra Madreans was at the Lancaster home of Mr. and Mrs. Art Evans. Attending from here were Mr. and Mrs. Warren O. Preston, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Hartman and sons Rudolph and Robert; Mr. and Mrs. John Spoelstra and their daughter and son Jean and Edward; Miss June Dougherty, and from out-of-town: Mr. and Mrs. Harold Pegler and Barbara and Jack Pegler of Fullerton; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Berto of Venice, and Miss Mable Johnson of Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis S. Dane, Jr., 1320 Rodeo Road, invited a small group of friends to celebrate the holiday at their home, where guests included Miss Helen Thatcher of Ojai, who is spending two weeks with the Danes; Luis Odriozola, Pasadena, and Miss Margaret Blaney and Richard Blaney of West Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl S. Bullock of 472 Grove street celebrated their 14th wedding anniversary on Thanksgiving day, and arranged a dinner party for six out-of-town friends.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hansen at a family dinner at their home, 291 N. Sunnyside avenue, were Mr. Hansen's mother, Mrs. Elsa K. Hansen of Pasadena; Mrs. Marian Newman, sister of Mr. Hansen, and Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Reams of Long Beach, aunt and uncle of Mrs. Hansen.

Mr. and Mrs. R. K. Thayer were hosts to Mr. and Mrs. M. Penn Phillips, Mrs. J. F. Happy, mother of Mrs. Phillips, and Mr. and Mrs. Carlo Guinini.

Present at a family party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Senour on Grand View avenue were Mr. and Mrs. Mark Mahan and daughter Martha Ann, of Los Angeles; and John Senour. Mark and Henry Mahan are brothers of Mrs. Senour.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris Geggie entertained at their home, 801 Auburn avenue. Guests were Mrs. George A. Conklin and Thomas H. Conklin, mother and brother of Mrs. Geggie, and Mr. and Mrs. Cargile Delamora, sister and brother-in-law of Mrs. Geggie. All are from Beverly Hills.

Mr. and Mrs. Al Miller were hosts to Mr. Miller's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Miller of this city, and to Mrs. Miller's mother and brother, Mrs. Lillian Neal and Keith Neal of Riverside.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Weigand of Pasadena had as their guests Mr. and Mrs. Francis Eakman, Mrs. Anna Block and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Pedigo and Nan Hathaway.

100 Thanksgiving Baskets Provided By Local Elks

In an effort to give someone other than themselves cause for thanks, Sierra Madre members of the Monrovia Elks lodge worked with chapters throughout the San Gabriel Valley in distributing 100 Thanksgiving baskets, filled with food, to the valley's needy, Wednesday afternoon. Serving on the committee which arranged for the filling and distribution of the baskets were Fred Krinke, Exalted Ruler of the Monrovia lodge; Councilman John Froehlich and Building Inspector William Lees.

The names of families who would benefit most from the gifts were suggested by the Red Cross chapters of each community as well as families whom members of the lodge knew to be worthy of aid.

150 Names On Local List Of Aliens

At the rate of three or four a day, 150 resident aliens in Sierra Madre have come into the postoffice to register and be fingerprinted since the opening day for registration, August 27th. According to Postmaster Ray O. Calkin, English and Canadian aliens predominate; however almost every nationality has been represented. First to register were the Japanese and British aliens; registrations now consist mainly of Mexican and a few Irish.

Deadline for registration and fingerprinting is December 26th, and postal officials urged aliens to come to the postoffice before the week just preceding Christmas, since it will be impossible to take care of them during the Christmas rush.

Penalty for failing to comply with the registration law is a fine not to exceed $1000 and a term of not more than six months in prison. Aliens entering the country just before the expiration date are given 30 days in which to register. But any alien must notify federal authorities of a change of address within five days after leaving the address from which he or she is registered or face prosecution under the alien registration act which provides stiff penalties for failure to do so.

Show Advantage Of Closer Relations With South America

An informal conversation carried on between W. Jarvis Barlow, Jr., and Jose Mendoza, native of Colombia, on Pan-American relations, gave Kiwanians one of the most informative and interesting programs on their calendar this year. The two men have appeared on a weekly radio program since July discussing the advantages of friendship between the countries of South America and the United States and means of increasing that friendship.

Barlow stated that recently everyone from the president of the United States, the State Department and all government agencies on down, including the night clubs, had become "South America conscious" and were working to improve the relationship between the two continents in trade agreements and general neighborliness. Senor Mendoza told Kiwanians of the economic possibilities of his native country and discussed further means of strengthening the ties that would stand this country in good stead in its long range defense program.

Dr. Lee Evans, incoming president, presided at the luncheon at Wistaria Vine Gardens. Dr. M. H. A. Peterson, sang the lovely hymn, "Thanks Be To God," commemorating Thanksgiving Day.

Temperature Hits Season's Low Mark

Sierra Madre had .93 inch of rainfall at the conclusion of the two-day rain, Sunday and Monday, which brought the total rainfall to 3.32 inches since July 1. This exceeds the total rainfall last year, at this time, by almost an inch. Lowest temperature to date was reached when the thermometer sagged to 41 Wednesday afternoon. Col. H. B. Hersey records the following temperatures:

Nov. 14	87	60
Nov. 15	79	62
Nov. 16	61	53

Youth Program Of Church Is Being Extended Now

Under the guidance of their new minister the young people of the First Congregational Church are participating in their enlarged program. All members of the church school staff have been in conference with the new minister seeking new methods and making plans for the future. The junior high school young people are enjoying their work in the junior choir which will soon be heard at regular Sunday morning service of worship.

The high school people plan to meet each Sunday evening for fellowship and discussion. A group of officers have been chosen as follows: president, John Lawson; vice-president, Howard Miller; recording secretary, Harold Brett; programs, Marjorie Pickett and Tess Keys. Barbara Bachman, Margaret Adwell and Bud Miller are co-chairmen for all young people's rally and party to be held soon.

The Junior College young people are sponsoring the evening services to which everyone is cordially invited.

TOYS IN POLICE DEPARTMENT SERVE BETTER PURPOSE THAN AMUSING OFFICERS

If you drop into the police department at the city hall, you may wonder what the legless dolls and sticky books on the counter are doing in an atmosphere that doesn't exactly turn one's thoughts to the contemplation of things juvenile. The toys, however, are not to keep police officers, in a viceless town, amused. They are the contributions of thoughtful Sierra Madreans to the Volunteer Firemen's Christmas toy shop.

Each year, firemen devote their evening, three or four weeks before Christmas, to the rehabilitation of broken and discarded toys.

SHAKESPEARE PICTURED AS MERE BUFFOON OF COTERIE OF QUEEN'S ENEMIES

Astounding Statements Made By Professor At The Vine Garden Salon

Hidden under a simple anagrammatic code lies the true Shakespearean work, greater in stature and beauty than the accepted plays—which themselves have been acknowledged the world's supreme literary masterpiece.

Hidden, too, in the coded folio is the factual, intense drama of the Elizabethan age, told by a brilliant coterie of intellectual artists who thus devise a way to evade the Queen's headman and still let future generations know how the moral breakdown of a civilization was brought about by irresponsible political leadership.

Shakespeare himself was no more than the buffoon of the group who actually composed these dramatic works, which appear to stand as history's most fantastic hoax.

396 Join Red Cross Here In A Week

Every Patriotic Citizen Will Have Chance To Enroll Before Drive Ends

Commending the splendid work of the people of Sierra Madre through their local Red Cross chapter, Governor Culbert L. Olson yesterday wired the following congratulatory message to Thomas Schwartz, Red Cross chairman: "Your chapter's success in present Red Cross Roll Call will be a definite contribution to National Defense and will reflect on solitary in this crucial period. A great active membership in California is essential. Please carry on until every patriotic citizen has been enrolled."

Since the opening of the membership drive, Armistice Day, 396 townspeople have enrolled as members and a total of $602.15 has already been subscribed. Of the 396 contributors, 12 were contributing members having given $5.00; three were sustaining members giving $10; five were supporting members having given $25; and one member gave $50.

The assigned quota, $500, has already been exceeded; however Red Cross officials hope that the chapter can equal the amount given here last year which was approximately $1200 from 828 members.

Working on the committee of solicitors is a woman whom the Swiss government honored for her splendid work in the tubercular department of the Swiss Red Cross. She is Mrs. H. A. Reinau of 170 West Highland.

There is a desperate need for warm clothing, especially men's shoes and trousers, and also blankets, at the local headquarters for Sierra Madre's own needy. Cold weather has brought many requests for warmer clothing, and the local chapter has exhausted its supply. People having old clothing are urged to help replenish the diminishing stock from discarded apparel that hangs uselessly in their closets.

Observations

By Lee Shippey

JOSHUA LITTLE, the eminent scientist, predicts that the people of Sierra Madre will grow shorter and shorter in stature until we have a race of midgets, because every time people close to the city hall are surprised by the new fire whistle they are startled out of a year's growth.

Fire Chief Warns Against Danger Of Open Fire Places

Fire Chief Bill Richards issued a warning to careless citizens who light open flame heaters and insist on standing in front of them with inflammable clothing, not to mention flannel night clothes.

"Please," pleads the fire chief, "beware of the perils of heating equipment now that winter has come. The metropolitan papers are filled with stories of careless people horribly burned from clothing that caught fire while they were standing too close to a stove. Not only do people suffer burns, but too often they go to sleep with the stove lighted and no air in the room, and consequences are fatal."

Gratitude Of City Shown At Churches

Grateful Sierra Madreans thronged the town's churches, Thursday, to take part in the services commemorating Thanksgiving Day. The yearly communion service was held at the First Church of Christ, Scientist, Sierra Madre. Following scriptural selections and selections from the Christian Science text book, the service was given to individual thanksgiving testimonies.

Ten o'clock services were conducted by Rev. Stewart R. Sheriff at Bethany Church. Subject of his sermon was "Thanksgiving Classic." A special program of music suitable for Thanksgiving was arranged by Mr. and Mrs. Don Mathews.

Rev. Frederic Groetsma, new Congregational minister, followed a unified program of Congregational Churches throughout the nation, in opening services at 10 a.m. with a short sermon, "Thanks Be To God." The Congregational choir concluded the service with a Thanksgiving anthem.

Communion services were held at the Church of the Ascension, beginning at 9, Thursday morning. Dr. William B. Heagerty devoted his sermon to the subject of Thanksgiving and the choir sang Thanksgiving selections.

St. Rita's Catholic church served communion at 6:30 a.m. with one mass following at 8 p.m.

Pheasant Hunting Judge Returns With A Few Ducks

Starting out on a pheasant hunting expedition in the wilds of the High Sierra country about Bishop, Judge Tom Neale returned Saturday morning without even pulling a trigger on a pheasant. Instead he came home with some wild duck picked up just before dark in the Owens valley on his way back. He figured a little discretion was better than a pheasant dinner.

"I know there were more hunters up there on the opening day of the season than there were pheasants," said Neale explaining his failure to bring a pheasant back for a friend. "There were more than 200 hunters registered at Bishop hotels and auto camps and the situation was as bad or worse in Lone Pine and other towns in the region. Many were unable to find accommodations and took naps during the night before the season opened leaning up against telephone poles. It just looked downright dangerous to go gunning, so I decided to wait for my pheasant until the crowd has thinned out. But we had a lovely trip and the duck picked off on the way home certainly tasted good."

Miniature By Noted Woman Here In Famed Collection

A miniature portrait of Herman Livezey of this city painted by Miss Ella Shepard Bush, noted Sierra Madre miniaturist, is to hang in the permanent miniature collection of the Philadelphia Museum of Art. A letter received this week by Miss Bush from the secretary of the Pennsylvania Society of Miniature Painters advised her of the portrait's selection by a committee from the museum. The collection contains some of the finest examples of this art in the world. Mr. Livezey is a member of an old and prominent Philadelphia family.

Altadenans appearing before the State Highway Commission in Los Angeles this week, left no doubt in the Commission's mind that they were not only objecting to the proposed freeway to extend from Foothill blvd., in Flintridge, on the west, to Rosemead and Foothill blvds., just south of Sierra Madre, but to any freeway route through Altadena. Not even persuasion by the commission that the highway was of military importance in the National Defense program changed the contention of irate Altadenans.

They will arrive in Los Angeles for a final going-over by doctors and dentists and for an intelligence test. From Los Angeles they will be sent to Fort McArthur for uniforms and army equipment. Their ultimate training station has not been made known.

Business and professional men operating one-man establishments have called local draft boards repeatedly to inquire what length of time they would be given to wind up their affairs. They have been notified that they would be given ample time but would not be placed in a deferred classification because of employment.

In this instance, inconvenience to the community and the nation, in taking men out of positions vital to public welfare and defense, is given more consideration than the inconvenience to the individual. Every occupational specialist such as engineers and industrial plant employees will be inducted, but probably will be used in army corps that can best utilize their specialized training.

Christmas Bundles Barred By War In Countries Oversea

Owing to war conditions, Christmas mail to many countries will be subject to restrictions. Postmaster Calkin warned yesterday. Parcel post service to certain countries has been suspended entirely, and parcel post to others involved in the war must be mailed under an affidavit that ownership of the articles has been transferred, in order to meet the provisions of the United States neutrality law. Affidavits may be obtained at the local postoffice. Judge Thomas Neale has volunteered to serve as notary for anyone sending packages to refugees in the war stricken areas, without charge.

It is recommended that Christmas gifts and greetings going to Europe, Asia or Africa be mailed within the next few days. Clipper mail will carry letters and cards with greater certainty of delivery than ordinary steamer mail. Information concerning international mail service is obtainable at the post office.

"And please remind the public," said the postmaster, "that it is well to post Christmas mail as early as possible."

Local Board Sends Three Into Army

First Contingent From This Draft District To Be Honored In Parade

Three volunteer draftees from the Sierra Madre, Monrovia, Arcadia draft district will begin their one-year training program in the United States Army when they leave Monrovia, Saturday morning at 10 a.m. Carl Bernard Michelson, Sigurd Ness of Monrovia and Wilbur De Clus of Arcadia, are the only boys to be called in the first quota from this draft district and were chosen from the district's 13 volunteers as the men best fitted for training at this time.

To date no Sierra Madre men eligible for conscription have volunteered.

The boys entering the service Saturday will be the center of a patriotic send-off when they march in a parade at 9:30 a.m., led by a motorcycle escort, from the Bank of America building draft headquarters to the Pacific Electric station, Monrovia. Marching with them will be members of the American Legion, the National Guard and officials of Local Board 191.

They will arrive in Los Angeles for a final going-over by doctors and dentists and for an intelligence test. From Los Angeles they will be sent to Fort McArthur for uniforms and army equipment. Their ultimate training station has not been made known.

LETTERS from Readers

LIKES THE IDEA

To the Editor of the

Sierra Madre News:

The suggestion, in your paper for November 14th, that the Barlow property be obtained by the City for park, library and museum purposes sounds good if it can be financed.

If such a project can be accomplished I am certain there would be no difficulty in getting plenty of display material for the museum. Beyond the art and other material available locally, I think displays of almost any nature would be available from the Los Angeles museum where I am working and where store rooms are crowded.

I would like to talk this over with any one interested.

Sincerely,

RANSON MATTHEWS.

Chimp in Gay Christmas Show

No wonder Chimpanzee Jimmy grins. His boss, Bert Fisher, is dressed as Santa Claus and both play star parts in The Christmas Show, magic city spectacle, Nov. 20 to Dec. 25 at 5843 Wilshire Boulevard, Los Angeles. Proceeds of the colorful extravaganza go to the British War Relief Association of Southern California.

Glittering, whimsical and featuring the holiday spirit, the Christmas Show at 5843 Wilshire blvd., Los Angeles, proceeds of which go to the British War Relief Association of Southern California, began a long run this week with a colorful array of "magic city" spectacles.

Staged by civic leaders to raise a large fund for women and children of all democratic nations, who have taken refuge on British soil, the show is declared a sparkling array of entertainment.

Spectators discovered themselves in a painted picture-book land, where the law of make-believe rules supreme. Spread before them is a rainbow forest. In the distance are the Snow Mountains topped by Santa Claus' castle. Show goes on in an ice cave, the home of the Snow Man, to be confronted by white polar animals, which growl and roar. They arrive at Santa Claus' workshop, a beehive of activity, where gnomes and elves work ceaselessly making presents for good boys and girls throughout the world.

There is a magic castle, a doll house, a gingerbread house, a mechanical menagerie, educated chimpanzees, trained dogs, a fairland theatre and many other bits of extravaganza. The front is decorated with large scale figures from movie cartoons all in motion.

Scheduled to run until December 25, all spectacles are under a huge pavilion, occupying almost one city block.

FIRE FLAMES

By One of the Boys

The firemen have all started to train for the coming Christmas activities. Little by little the "O F's" are limbering up their legs for the walking that selling tickets requires, but this is nothing to what trying to dance does to old knees. Most of the boys (O F's) are practicing in their homes to the tunes of the radio. Not satisfied with the old waltz, the chief is trying to dance like the folks "down Argentine way." When he gets going good, his interpretation of the rumba is surely something. Some of the others have started dancing lessons. Vern Udell is glad to have the Toy Shop job, because he has a good excuse to avoid the ladies at the dance. He is bashful.

When the firemen go about selling tickets for their big dance, they will distribute cards telling how to send in a fire alarm. These should be read very carefully and well remembered. The new system is quite different from the old and if the directions are not followed some confusion will result. In a few words, the main thing is to be sure that you have been connected with the fire department and then make sure that the correct address is understood by the man answering the phone.

DRAMATIC TORNADO AT THE PLAYHOUSE

A dramatic tornado penned with a poet's insight for life's beauty and a realist's regard for life's realities, comes to Pasadena Community Playhouse stage, Nov. 25 to Dec. 7 when the dynamic "Of Mice and Men" hits the Playhouse boards. John Steinbeck, alternately the pain or pride in California's side, tells the earthy story of George and Lennie, how they wanted a farm of their own in the hills, how they planned and, finally, of how Fate stepped in to play havoc with those plans. "Mornings At Seven," current Playhouse attraction, closes its run on Saturday, November 23.

SOUNDS GOOD

There was good news for California in Governor Olson's declaration that the quickening defense drive in California has so stimulated business and increased revenues that the State budget has been balanced for the fiscal year ending June 30 and may, in fact, produce a surplus.

All will hope this optimistic trend proves true. Certainly State can now ill afford to impose even higher and stiffer taxes, although this is precisely what revenues keep up at their present pace.

The country is wholeheartedly supporting the new defense levies of the Federal government. This should call for at least a temporary truce on the part of State governments, a recognition that the taxpayer's back is not of cast-iron material. It is definitely limited in the weight it can bear. Already Californians have been forced to increase their tax load from a total of $449,500,000 in 1932-33 to $918,390,000 in 1938-39. In that period, it goes without saying, income did not double, population did not double.

During the present year, Californians will pay an extra $60 million or more in special defense levies. They will work and, in many cases, sacrifice to do so. State departments and legislators ought likewise to make reasonable sacrifices where possible. United, we must buckle down to the most urgent job the nation has ever known, opposing what hinders that job, helping what helps it!

ONE DEADLINE PAST

One deadline for Christmas shopping is past—if you put off buying something to send a friend in Thailand, Netherlands East Indies or the Straits Settlements.

The last Christmas boat's gone! And you'll have to hurry to make the last sailing Thursday if you want to get something off to anyone in New Zealand or Australia. That earnestly broadcast news, fresh from the Postoffice Department, will excite but a tiny minority of citizens—yet it is just as well for all and sundry to be reminded that only four weeks hence we'll all be in that final deadline shopping week, that last hectic, crowded, bustling week before Christmas.

It will be easier on all kids, dads and mothers—to make a beginning on the shopping chore this very week. Stocks are fresh and full in every store in town; bargain inducements for the lure of early shoppers abound; there's no crowding nor standing in line—neither in stores nor at the parcel post windows. The reward's in escaping the last-minute rush and crush. The only way to defy that Christmas deadline on December 24 is to begin shopping—now.

READ IT AND WEEP

This item ought properly be called "Read it and weep!"

The American Youth Commission—not to be confused with that band of young red hots known as the American Youth Congress—has just completed a survey which revealed that only about one in every four of the 1,750,000 students who leave schools and colleges each year has any clear idea of what kind of a job he or she should seek.

That astonishingly low average would indicate more than 1,200,000 young people, many of them supposedly well trained and well educated, drift aimlessly into the world each year in search of a living—without any idea of where to do the searching, on what employer's door to knock, in what field of endeavor to seek apprenticeship, or apparently without even knowing what trades and professions want and need apprentices and workers.

This haphazardly, happy-go-lucky preparation for a livelihood is a good breeder of despair and disillusionment and poor citizenship, for these ill-equipped students will find no "welcome mats" spread for them outside the campus gate. Far more than they are doing now, schools must observe the professional and business world for which they are training students. If schools provided, as the Commission recommends, "realistic vocational guidance, appropriate vocational preparation and eventual job placement," then education would become successful training for actual work, better citizenship, and a happier life. This is what education should be, not simply the pursuit of report cards with high enough grades on them to induce Dad to send an extra allowance.

The nation, proud of its record in the field of progressive education, has already gone far. But progressive means to be "forward-looking." Schools must continue to look forward, to progress toward sounder, more adequate ways of educating youth for a livelihood and good citizenship.

Mrs. S. C. Coumbe returned Sunday to her home, 521 Alta Vista drive, from an eight weeks visit with relatives in Vargas, Minn.

MARCH OF RIMES

By H. F. NOAKE

ONE WORD

Annihilation seems to face those members of the human race who live in lands where men are bent on making warfare permanent. But in the good old U.S.A., we kill folks off another way, with something worse than guns, by far, we slay 'em with the motor car. Unless a stop's put to this curse we'll all be riding in a hearse; to solve the problem, I suggest each driver make this simple test. Although my plan may sound absurd, the answer's found in just one word; instead of RECKLESS, you will see a change, if we'll drive WRECKLESS-LY.

UNCENSORED

By LEONE BAXTER

Warmongering is a hateful practice—pumping up panic over half-truths—building bon-fires of excitement from the tinder of exaggeration—prophesying calamity and preaching disaster.

In the days of the last "preparedness" program, warmongering was the rule and not the exception. April 6, 1917, struck a high note of panic that, for millions, never let down 'till the Armistice was signed. The 1940 call to arms is marked by reasoning of a different order.

Most people have figured out for themselves, calmly, that some kind of defense measures are necessary, sane and reasonable. A couple of decades apparently is not too long to remember the last time America "prepared." To remember the success of that colossal undertaking, as well as its failures.

Looming as big as any defense preparation on the list is the problem of transporting troops. Over 15 million soldiers were moved by rail in the last foray. Eight hundred billion ton-miles of freight was hauled—guns, ammunition tanks and trucks, food and medical supplies; clothes and food and raw materials for war machinery.

Among thoughtful people there are probably few who would care to turn our immense transportation system over for government operation again, as it was in the last months of the 1917-18 conflict. But there are men with shorter memories, who forget the last experiment cost the taxpayers two billion dollars in deficits, who forget the cost, the waste, the inefficiency.

A short memory can be forgiven; sometimes it's a blessing. But the significant fact can scarcely be ignored that dictatorships and government control of everything seem to have an ardent affinity. That Stalin's government controls transportation in Russia; the Fascist government controls it in Italy; the Nazi government in Germany, France, Belgium and other conquered subjugated countries. That England and the United States of America are the two last great nations on the face of the earth where transportation is still a business! And that in this country, freight and passenger rates are lowest, service is the best and wages are by far the highest!

If, in a supposed emergency, the government should take over the railroads, buses, commercial trucks, vessels, pipe lines and airlines—how long might it be before it would be producing its own fuel, timber, rails and other supplies—to the utter ruin and collapse of private industry?

The present emergency and any others likely to beset us will be controlled best by the cooperation of business, industry, government and the private citizen, acting with integrity and integrity, the frenzied cry of "Wolfe!" won't help much.

Building Housing Cullum's Market To Be Remodeled

Another new store front is soon to enhance the local business district when Mrs. Ethel Davis, owner of the Cullum Market building at 58 West Sierra Madre blvd., begins modernization work on the building, Monday.

Harold Spears, contractor, has been engaged to close the front of the building with plate glass windows and tile trimmed exterior and to divide the building by means of a partition into two separate stores.

The store is now occupied by Leo Cullum, proprietor of Cullum's Market, who announces that business will continue as usual while remodeling is under way. Total cost of rehabilitation will be approximately $1,000 and will be completed, if possible, within a week.

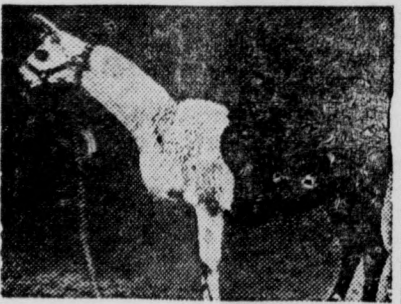

BARKMAN'S ESCAPE EASTERN BLIZZARD

Mr. and Mrs. Albert J. Barkman, 40 South Michillinda blvd., have returned from a month's vacation in the middle west. While away they made their headquarters with Mrs. Barkman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. Zwissler, of Forest Park, Ill., and from there visited relatives in neighboring states. They left for home just ahead of the terrific storms which visited the middle west and east last week, but in New Mexico found weather just 26 degrees above zero.

Rugged individualism isn't dead yet. Barber Williams, doughty defender of free trade, living in Milwaukee, Wis., last week balked at a new state law fixing the price he would have to charge customers for a hair-cut. There being no "hair" trade law against a barber paying patrons for their clipped hair, Mr. Williams is today giving customers a flat fee for their shorn locks. He'll continue, he says, till the law is repealed. This rugged individualist naturally hasn't settled the problem of just how far the state should go in policing a man's business and telling him what he must charge the customer for goods and services. And the problem is a growing one. The vast defense program coupled with the emergency period is likely to see government playing an even bigger role as price control policeman. Measures which forbid cut-throat below-cost selling are essential. But beyond that lies uncertain, sometimes dangerous ground. If a given product can be sold only at a fixed price, the public too suffers from the lack of free competition which ensures lower cost. Likewise, the competent enterpriser is often prevented from offering the lower prices that his popularity enables him to do, that he would like to do, and that his customers would profit from. Barber Williams' rebellion may not affect price-fixing by a hair's breadth, but that incident is a reminder that the trend against the free market needs watching if that market is to be preserved.

To critics who say the press has lost its standing because the electorate did not follow the editorial opinion of many newspapers, Publisher Sulzberger of the New York Times has made eloquent reply: "The sneerers fail to realize that it was the news which these same newspapers published day after day that made it possible for the electorate to form its own opinion and come to a different conclusion from that which the papers had reached. So long as that is possible we are safe." Let critics please copy!

"The old order passes"—and an Indian village is no exception to the rule. Up in smoke the other day went such a picturesque village, situated on a Puget Sound sand spit. Known as Little Boston, it had been inhabited by Indians for the last 90 years. Seeing it reduced to little more than a ghostly cluster of leaky shacks, generous Uncle Sam came along, built some spic and span new houses nearby, gleaming like newly peeled eggs and, as a sanitary measure, set the torch to the old settlement. But he who thinks all you need to do is pass the cake around and people will automatically like cake is mistaken. The old Chieftains and squaws wept as they saw their ancient dwellings consumed by flames, not a whit comforted by the bright new homes that were theirs. Like a child who rejects a new doll and fiercely clutches at an old raggedy one, those Little Boston braves knew what they wanted. And it wasn't "progress." It was the old battered shacks they knew of old. But that's a sentiment to which the Red man's White brother is no stranger. Try and give him a substitute for a well-aged smoking pipe, a fishing jacket seasoned by a hundred trips, or an easy-chair, long on comfort but short on eye-appeal. The old order passes, yes, but nowhere without loud protest.

The long-standing migrant problem is being solved—partially—in the quickening pace of defense production. Reports from New England, from the Great Lakes region, from the Southwest and the Middle Atlantic states, indicate that increasing numbers of farm workers are being drawn from the fields and into defense work, particularly to jobs where semi-skilled or unskilled labor can be employed. Even in Pacific Coast states, where the migrant tide usually reaches its greatest peak, there have been difficulties in securing harvest workers. The temporary speed-up in defense production will anchor a considerable number of footloose workers to steady jobs for a time, but the nation has yet to provide a satisfactory solution for its vast army of migrant laborers.

The dangers of over-confidence and of wishful thinking were shown on a colossal scale in the defeat of France and the swift crushing of the Low Countries. That Germany was limited in her supply of such vital materials as rubber and gasoline has been a belief widely held both in England and the United States. That, too, may be wishful thinking. The current issue of a British aviation journal reports on a checkup of German planes shot down over England. Tires were found to be of excellent material, and throughout the planes rubber was generously used—even more liberally than in Britain's airships. Fuel from the tanks of enemy planes, on being tested, showed an octane rating of 92 — an unexpectedly high figure. These findings would indicate that the experts who did the estimating, or underestimating—of the Nazi storehouse can, like the rest of us, let their wishes get ahead of their facts. Their error, in this case, is not likely to prove of any decisive importance in the Battle of Britain, but it is a warning that he who prepares for the worst in time of war is likely to prove a wiser man than he who relies on optimism to stop bullets.

reign uearthen by the secret service of the Earl of Essex. Further information is asserted to reveal the existence of 14 unknown dramas, at least one of which is supposed to be at present buried in an ancient crypt beneath a historic church in Williamsburg, Virginia—members of the Shakespeare group having fled to the colonies and become associated with early American history.

The code, further, reveals that the "11 gentlemen travelers" on Drake's voyage around the world composed the nucleus of the extraordinary group—that included for certain, such men as Kit Marlow, Bacon, Essex, Raleigh, and Bishop Launcelot Andrews, who supervised the King James translation of the Bible.

Despite the fact that Shakespearean scholars in numerous well known universities throughout the country have rejected the amazing theory without examination, Dr. Cunningham claims that the existence of the code can be demonstrated to the complete satisfaction of any jury of disinterested lawyers, scientists and similarly trained professional men.

His own assistants, he says, have easily been trained to carry out the decoding process in any folio Shakespeare work, leaving no possibility either of chance or device on his part.

And for the benefit of countless English "lit" students who for generations have struggled to absorb the involved academic notes concerning certain senseless passages, Dr. Cunningham states that the plays as originally written say exactly what the authors meant, in Biblically clear language, but with the immortal poetry intact.

The speaker was introduced by Perley Poore Sheehan, and academic "views of protest" of both Lee Shippey and Dean Arnold G. H. Bode were given during the open discussion following the announcement.

What A Girl Sees Ramblin' Round

● It is commonly conceded that there are three good ways to find out an individual's quirks and mental machinery in general—to travel with him, work with him or live with him. But I have something to add—serve with him on a committee. Working on our local Art Observation Week is an experience I wouldn't miss for love nor well, nor even for money. (The last I pondered carefully before including.)

Miss Bertsch

● First of all, we had a meeting to get things going, to which all organizations were asked to send representatives. The people who came were what is known in town as "the workers." One of them is worth a dozen other individuals on any committee. Without exception they are dependable, business-like and reliable generally. The others who were to come and didn't are the ones who invariably say, "sure, I'll be there"—and aren't.

● There was R. C. Lewis, with his logical, business like way of getting things done, who kept us from straying into the hinterlands of unnecessary conversation; energetic Hazel Ferguson; charming Mrs. W. L. Solomon who didn't shy at the work piled on her capable shoulders and who has no axe to grind, but works simply because she's civilly proud; Sally Dewey, whom you know will see that things happen; a newcomer and a delightful person—an artist, by the way—Helen Narozny; Mrs. Edward Dewey, whom I met for the first time and liked. Each of these persons is a leader in his or her own right, and you know when you ask one of them to do something, you can forget about it. The list doesn't comprise all the civic minded workers in town; but it's a case in point of people who not only have civic pride but the type of mind that makes leaders of them wherever they are.

● Someone else whose mind interested me was Lawrence Washburn when he acted as spokesman for the Citizen's Committee in its meeting with the council, the other night. He has the a.b.c. type of mind that holds a straight course and evolves thoughts logically and clearly. Again, I say, if you want to find out what makes a person tick, study him on a committee.

● LOCAL THIS AND THAT: What in heaven's name happened to everyone's flags on Armistice Day? Practically four flags waved in the flagless downtown area... Thank you, Clara Cox, for those beautiful chrysanthemums that have made the NEWS staff and everyone coming into the office more cheerful. You sent me my first fan letter and my first fall bouquet... Carl Pegler huddles over the typewriter to tell me that he doesn't ship dichondra East... a column of free publicity and he scolds me for shipping the stuff East... Don't forget the reception at the city hall opening Art Week on the 25th, will you? It's Monday evening at 8 p.m.... If I sit here long enough anything can happen. A little girl with red braids down her back peered in the NEWS office and asked me to buy stamps for a penny apiece. I asked her for what the money was to be used and she explained that the money was to be given to "the Sisters"—then confidentially, "you know some people throw their babies away, and the Sisters help those babies."

—Florence Bertsch.

A. L. A. Activities

Thursday evening was inter-unit visiting night and our Unit was hostess to the units of the 18th District. Representatives from Arcadia, Claremont and San Gabriel were present. District President Ruth Buzzard brought us greetings. The Thanksgiving turkey was won by our president, Minnie Stinman, who in her gracious manner gave our unit the price of the turkey for the Xmas welfare work.

Community Service Chairman Kitty Miller reported 85 hours of work given by various members to civic organizations. Minnie Stinman, Ruth Kelleher and Orrella Stinman attended the Armistice Day party given for the veterans of the San Fernando hospital and decorated 21 tables with chrysanthemums donated by Sierra Madreans.

Chaplain May Evans has been transferred to East Pasadena Unit having moved from our vicinity.

London Learned How To Protect Itself Against Fires

If Hitler is wondering why his incendiary bombs have not demolished London, he must look to the great fire in that city of 1666 for the answer, according to word just received by Bruce V. Reagan, president of the new Pasadena Fire Insurance Company, from the London representatives of Reagan, Carr & Gaze, Ltd.

Most American do not know that after the great London fire, that metropolis was laid out in 46 boroughs, each separated from adjoining boroughs by a series of lakes, streams and parks," Mr. Reagan points out. "These make natural fire-breaks. Some of these boroughs are divided into districts, which are similarly protected against fire."

"Carrying further the idea of self sustenance, each borough has its own independent water supply and, up to a few years ago, each had its own independent power plant. When a unified power system was set up for the city of London, authorities wisely left the old plants intact, although they became dormant. Now these independent plants serve the needs of their boroughs in case service of the central system is disrupted."

Miss Elwood is now conducting a course on article and feature writing in Pasadena, on Mondays at 10:00 a.m., at the YWCA, 78 North Marengo avenue. The course is under the University of California Division and those interested are invited to attend one session free of charge.

PUBLIC NOTICE

ORDINANCE No. 402

AN ORDINANCE OF THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF SIERRA MADRE PROHIBITING TRESPASS UPON, AND LOITERING ABOUT CERTAIN CLASSES OF PROPERTY.

THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF SIERRA MADRE DO ORDAIN AS FOLLOWS:

SECTION 1: DECLARATION OF PURPOSE. Public safety is hereby declared to require that the uninterrupted operation of certain industries essential to national defense, such as the aircraft manufacturing industry, and of companies or agencies supplying water, gas, electric and other essential services, be protected by preventing the intrusion upon the properties thereof of idle, curious or malicious persons and of persons whose presence thereon is not necessary, and by prohibiting and loitering about such places by persons capable of inflicting harm or of impeding the operation conducted thereon.

WHAT THE RED CROSS IS DOING IN SIERRA MADRE

"What the Red Cross is doing in Sierra Madre" is the title of a pamphlet being distributed locally. It points out that while a membership quota of 500 has been assigned this city which has always responded to mercy's call, the chapter's goal in the roll call that begins Tuesday is 1,000. Fifty cents of each membership fee goes to the National Red Cross for emergencies throughout the nation, the remainder being retained here for the many splendid activities of the home organization. These are listed as follows:

DISASTER PREPAREDNESS: The Disaster and Preparedness Committee is well organized and stands ready at any time to give instant help to our community in case of disaster.

RELIEF WORK: An average of 125 families per month are assisted through your chapter—those on WPA, SRA, General Relief, Old Age Assistance, Aid to the Blind, Aid to Dependent Children, all in conjunction with the County Welfare Department. Where needed, local families in ill health are supplied with WPA housekeepers. Food, milk, grocery orders, clothing, furniture, bedding, transportation and nursing are provided in emergencies. The Chapter purchases food stamps for those people not able to go to Monrovia to purchase them, serving an average of 60 persons monthly.

EMERGENCY CLOSET: We maintain a well equipped department for aid to the sick, loans from which are made upon request.

MEDICAL CLINIC: There is held every Thursday a clinic in the Red Cross rooms enabling an average of 15 persons weekly to receive medical care from local doctors and the County Health Department.

EMPLOYMENT SERVICE: An average of 20 persons monthly have been placed in "hourly" or permanent positions.

TRANSIENTS: Transients are aided as the emergency requires.

FIRST AID: There were 10 standard and four advanced certificates awarded to the First Aid class just finished. Another course is now under way for children at the public school and for adults at Red Cross headquarters.

SWIMMING AND LIFE SAVING: From July 29th to August 10th a swim campaign was conducted at Canyon Park Plunge—70 enrollees. Three "swimmer," nine intermediate and five junior life saving certificates were issued at the close of the course.

PRODUCTION: Volunteers consisting of dozens of willing workers from every woman's organization of Sierra Madre, have made 106 knitted sweaters, socks and shawls; 48 garments of women's and girls' dresses; 28 layettes; 50 infants' wear, and 15 hospital garments, to date.

HOME HYGIENE AND CARE OF THE SICK: In the last class 13 adults successfully completed the course and received certificates. Another class is now meeting, and registrations may be made at Red Cross rooms.

JUNIOR RED CROSS: This branch of Red Cross is conducted in the grammar school and is training the youth of today in international good will, health and service which is so badly needed in these times of strife.

What's Going On At The Grammar School

Mrs. Leonard's 3B room: Our 3B class is building a tepee. The boys have made the frame and the girls have sewn together burlap sacks for the tepee. The Indians used skins in place of sacks. We are going to cut the cover the shape of a half moon. We hope to have it done by Thanksgiving Day.—Marilyn Simpson.

Mrs. Adam's 4B class: Our class has organized a club, we meet every Wednesday. In our first room meeting we all suggested things to make our meetings more interesting. These are some of the things we discussed. To bring collections of rocks to show during meeting after the business. And to make rules for our own room.—Lois Schaeffer.

In our room we are trying a new way in penmanship and we hope that we can learn to write partment or instrumentality having possession or control of the premises on which such sign has been erected, is guilty of a misdemeanor.

SECTION 8: PENALTY CLAUSE. Every person, as principal, agent or otherwise, violating any of the provisions of this Ordinance shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punishable by a fine of not to exceed Three Hundred Dollars ($300.00) or by imprisonment in the City Jail of the City of Sierra Madre, California, for a period of not to exceed three (3) months, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

SECTION 9: If any provision of this Ordinance, or the application thereof to any person or circumstance, is held invalid, the remainder of the Ordinance and the application of such provision to other persons or circumstances shall not be affected thereby.

SECTION 10: This Ordinance shall take effect thirty days after the date of its adoption and prior to the expiration of fifteen days from the passage hereof shall be published at least once in the Sierra Madre News, a newspaper of general circulation, published and circulated in the City of Sierra Madre.

SECTION 11: The City Clerk shall certify to the passage of this Ordinance.

The foregoing Ordinance was adopted at a regular meeting of the City Council of the City of Sierra Madre, held on the 12th day of November, 1940, by the affirmative vote of at least three Councilmen, to-wit:

AYES: Councilmen Miller, Carter, Froehlich and Schwartz.

NOES: None.

ABSENT: Councilman Schiltz, and signed and approved this 12th day of November, 1940.

THOS. M. SCHWARTZ, Acting Mayor.

ATTEST: WAVERLY E. PRATT, City Clerk.

better. In spelling, so we can learn our words, correctly. We are all bringing pennies so we can be the first members of the Junior Red Cross and they are coming in very fast.—Priscilla Young.

Miss Moore's 4A-5B class: The 4A-5B class has given $1.20 to the Junior Red Cross News that comes out every month. We have very interesting class meetings. Our officers are Juanita Guardia, president; Paul Iffrig, secretary; and Betsy Ward, council representative.—Paul Iffrig.

Mrs. Wheeler's 6B Class: The 6B class is studying the Egyptians and how they lived 6,000 years ago. We took a trip to the Los Angeles Museum and saw mummies and other things concerning the Egyptians. We saw tools and weapons of the stone age people. We saw the skeletons of mammoths and other prehistoric animals. The lady at the museum showed us the model of an apparatus used 6,000 years ago by the Egyptians in getting water from the Nile to irrigate their crops.—Julian Weber.

Mrs. Gardner's 5A class: Our class has been studying about early American animals. We have been drawing pictures of various kinds of wild animals. In arithmetic we have been learning about perimeters and areas and diameters; also have been studying fractions. The boys are getting ready to build a miniature stockade. The girls are matching patchwork quilts. Both of these projects may soon be finished.—Malcolm Gerschler.

Mrs. McLaughlin's 6A class: The room club of our room is composed of the following officers: Robert Jenkins, president; Lillian Dowling, vice-president; Joan Malby, secretary; George Tyree, council representative. Our meetings are held on Wednesday at 9:30. First we have the secretary's report, then the minutes of the last meeting. Then the council representative reads the notes he took while attending the meeting of the school council. Then the other business is carried on.—Phyllis Kreitzer.

Mrs. Pavelko's 8B class: On our trip to Los Angeles the other day, we went to Grace Nicholson's studio. There we saw some very fine oil paintings and some very ancient Chinese carvings, and modeling and jewelry. After that we went to Chinatown in Los Angeles. We ate lunch starting with rice cakes, and ended with shrimp, rice, and chow mein. Then our class went to the Buddhist temple in China city. Inside there were elegant carvings out of teak wood which was very beautiful and also hard to carve. When we left Chinatown, we went to Exposition Park and saw some very old Chinese and Mongolian statues. Then we went over to the State building and saw a film on redwood, then went down into the basement and saw many things about redwood.—Sylvia Shippey.

Timely Tips

By Florence Matheny

Home Economist, Southern Counties Gas Company

There is more to pork than chops and ham — and there's more to pork than "meats" the eye, too! The flavor alone is reason enough for serving pork, but now comes the news that in one single pork chop there's enough thiamine (Vitamin B1 necessary for growth and healthy appetites) to supply an adult for one day. No one will deny the goodness of golden-brown pork chops or luscious baked ham. Not for nothing is it said that bacon sizzling on the gas range is the all-American alarm clock. But not for nothing either does your meat man have other choice pork cuts that you may have been overlooking. They are kind to budgets, flattering to menus. Why not serve spareribs more often? Try, besides, cuts like blade pork steaks, picnic shoulder roast, cottage roll, shank, Boston butt.

BARBECUED SPARERIBS

- 3 lbs. spareribs
- 1 medium onion
- 2 tablespoons butter
- 2 tablespoons vinegar
- 4 tablespoons lemon juice
- 1 cupful ketchup
- 1 tsp. Worcestershire sauce
- 1/2 cupful chopped celery
- 1 teaspoonful mustard
- 1/2 cupful water
- Salt and pepper

Have spareribs cut into pieces for serving. Place in oven in uncovered baking dish and brown for 30 minutes. Brown onion in butter, add vinegar, brown sugar, lemon juice, ketchup, sauce, mustard, celery and water; cook slowly for 20 minutes, until flavors are blended. Season ribs with salt and pepper, cover with the sauce, and bake in moderate gas oven (350°) covered, for 1 hour. Uncover, and continue baking for 30 minutes. Serves 6.

PORK SAUSAGE LINKS AND NOODLES

- 1 pkg. (6 oz.) noodles
- 1 1/2 lb. pork sausage links, cut in pieces
- 2/3 cupful diced celery
- 1 cupful diced onion

- 1 cupful diced green pepper
- 2 1/2 cupfuls cooked tomatoes
- 1 cupful grated American cheese
- 1 1/2 teaspoonfuls salt
- 1/4 teaspoonful pepper

Cook noodles until tender in boiling salt water. Fry sausage slowly until brown. Pour off all fat except 2 tablespoons. Add celery, onion, green pepper and tomatoes. Cover; bake in a moderate gas oven (350°F.) for 1 hour; or simmer over a low flame on top of the range for 1 hour. Remove from range; stir in cheese, salt and pepper. Arrange cooked noodles in center of serving dish and serve sausage mixture around them. This is particularly good for that Sunday night supper party!

Interpretive Dance Program At Vine Gardens Sunday

The "sanity in art" idea which will be brought out by Sierra Madre's sizeable colony of painters next week is to find a champion in the companion art of dancing Sunday night—when Renee, young Parisian dancer now living in this city, presents an unusual program of interpretive dancing following the Sunset Supper at the Wistaria Vine Salon.

No believer in the stiff, awkward gestures of the ultra-modern American dance, Renee will stage a series of fluid portrayals inspired by Cuban, Asiatic and African music—with the accent on beauty of movement, and poetic pantomime. The classicists will find enjoyment in such numbers as the calm, graceful Clair de Lune, while those with more popular tastes will find equal pleasure in the fiery, sensual interpretation of African jungle rhythms, and the flirtatious Cuban rumba number.

Elma McFarland, Arcadia pianist, assists in the piano interludes, including well-loved pieces by Schumann, Schubert, Mokrejs and others.

Patronesses for Renee's recital include Mrs. Lee Shippey, Mrs. J. Milton Steinberger, Mrs. W. J. Lawless, Mrs. Perley Poore Sheehan, Mrs. Waverly Pratt, Miss Marjorie Hesse, Mrs. Morris Geggie, Mrs. Irving W. Adams, and Mrs. Rex Harbert, program chairman of the Los Angeles District Federation of Women's Clubs.

Color Films Of Egypt And The Nile Will Be Shown Nov. 28

Thursday evening, November 28, at Pasadena Civic Auditorium, the Pacific Geographic Society brings to the screen a color motion picture of Egypt and the Nile, made by the celebrated sculptor, Leonard Craske, who in addition to the fame he has achieved for his Gloucester Fisherman and other memorials, is considered one of the foremost authorities on color film.

In his Egyptian motion picture, Mr. Craske shows a journey of a thousand miles on the Nile, going ashore with his camera to record the richly cultivated Delta, the mounds of ancient cities and the mighty monuments of forgotten civilizations.

Often referred to as the granary of Europe, Egypt and the Nile are right now playing a significant part in the present world situation, for its 600 mile coastline on the Mediterranean is a vital geographical factor in the grim game of arms.

Reorganize Class Work At Wilson PTA Is Advised

No new material but a reorganization of the contents has been made in the class room work in the Pasadena Junior High Schools this year, Dr. Glen L. Lembke told parents at a meeting of the Woodrow Wilson Parent-Teacher Association last Wednesday. The new "Social Living" classes proposes to have teacher and students living together cooperatively, drawing material presented in terms of a problem from history, geography, English and civic sources. This method Dr. Lembke believes gives the student more meaningful experiences than a chronological study of events. Dr. Lembke is coordinator of secondary schools in Pasadena.

Mrs. R. D. Andrews of Sierra Madre was one of the 10th grade mothers serving as hostess.

A school skating party at the Moonlight Rollerway is being sponsored by the association on Friday night, November 29th.

WOMEN RALLY TO NATION'S DEFENSE IN RED CROSS VOLUNTEER SERVICES

Training Courses Fit Them for Duties Vital In Present Emergency

WITH the call to the colors of more than a million of the nation's young men, American women everywhere ask how they can volunteer their services to aid in the emergency. What part can women and girls play in national defense?

The American Red Cross, through its 3,700 Chapters and their branches, provides the answer. More than a half million women already have enrolled to give their time in Red Cross volunteer services, according to Mrs. Dwight F. Davis of Washington, D. C., Chairman of Red Cross Volunteer Special Services. Through sewing and knitting a million garments for Europe's war victims, and making millions of surgical dressings for war wounded and sick, they have gained efficiency and experience which can be readily diverted to the work for home defenses should the need arise, Mrs. Davis said.

In order to prepare most efficiently for any emergency which may come, the Red Cross is extending its training courses through its Chapters. Women motorists are trained for the Red Cross Motor Corps; girls who wish to volunteer for office work, train for the Staff Assistance Corps; other thousands join the Canteen Corps; women and girls who wish to learn to protect the health of their families, take Home Hygiene and Care of the Sick Courses; those who wish to learn how to aid the victim of an accident, enroll in the First Aid classes.

The Gray Lady Corps is composed of volunteers who require more specialized training and this is available only in those chapters near military hospitals. The Gray Ladies are the visitors in military and civilian hospitals giving these aids and comforts to sustain the

Famed Polo String In Action Sunday

Banks Stocks of Lubbock, Texas, prominent rancher who is putting up the silverware for the polo tournament which will start Sunday afternoon at Riviera—weather forced a postponement last week—is attracting wide attention with the string of pinto polo ponies he shipped out here. For 15 years Stocks has been crossing pintos with thoroughbreds and now has an excellent string, said to be the only pinto polo pony string in the country.

Training In First Aid Put To Use

Emergency first-aid was administered Saturday by Mrs. A. E. Godolphin when Mrs. Jean Hardesty, clerk at Garland's 5 & 10-cent store, cut her hand on a piece of counter glass. She had her hand wrapped in a paper towel when Mrs. Godolphin, a member of the Red Cross first aid class, came into the store. The wound was bleeding profusely and Mrs. Hardesty was unable to stop the flow. Mrs. Godolphin volunteered to put her first aid training to practical use. By knowing where to hold the injured arm above the elbow, she was able to force the blood to clot and stop the bleeding immediately. She then dressed the wound, and a grateful Mrs. Hardesty was able to resume her work.

1941 Gas Range Will Be Given Away At Wistaria Theatre

Cooking Christmas dinner on a 1941 O'Keefe and Merritt gas range will be the happy experience for some Sierra Madre woman, as announcement was made last week by J. S. Slate, owner of the Wistaria Theatre, that a range of this type will be given away at the theatre Wednesday evening, December 11. The gift has been made possible through the generous cooperation of the Sierra Madre Hardware Company at whose store the range is now on display.

Current attractions at the theatre are "I Want A Divorce," with Joan Blondell and Dick Powell and "Black Diamonds," with Richard Arlen and Andy Devine. Bing Crosby's current success, "Rhythm on the River," with Joe Penner and Martha Raye, will show Sunday through Tuesday. Wednesday and Thursday's billing will bring "River's End" and "Love Harbor and 'Oh-Baby!'"

Mrs. Chris Bender of 427 West Highland avenue has as her guests, her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Brown of Buhl, Idaho.

Members Of Eastern Star Guests Of Matron And Patron

Cecil Sterling Price, worthy matron, and Ben Stinman, worthy patron of the Sierra Madre chapter, O.E.S., entertained their officers with a 6 o'clock turkey dinner at Wistaria Vine Gardens Monday evening preceding the chapter's regular meeting. Mrs. Helen Louise Edwards, Junior past grand matron, and Arch Edwards were guests of honor. Table decorations carried out the Thanksgiving motif with golden fruit and orange colored flowers and berries. Miss Price's gifts to her officers were blue glass hanging flower vases wrapped in blue cellophane and tied with gold ribbon.

About 125 members gathered at the Temple for the last meeting of the 1940 officers. Mrs. Love Braley, a 94-year old past grand matron from Minnesota, was among the visiting members. Miss Mary Kathleen Scoville played beautiful selections on her marimba and a group of young people from the Nisean Singers at Pasadena Junior College presented a splendid program. Miss Frances Robertson sang a group of Indian love songs.

Mrs. Mary Avis Wammock was general chairman for the evening. The dining room was transformed into a wonderland with each table representing a different nation. Miss Price was presented with her jewel from the chapter and many gifts and flowers from officers and friends.

Girls Make Dolls For Hospital

Girls of the Congregational Church Sunday School class of Mrs. Warren O. Preston gathered at the home of Mrs. Joseph Clougherty on East Laurel avenue Saturday to work on the dolls which they are dressing for the Children's Hospital in Hollywood. Following the sewing period those present enjoyed games and refreshments. Attending were Floretta Keith, Janet Gerschler, Mary Louise McClelland, Mareta Preston and Elizabeth and Joan Clougherty.

Father Sage Says:

Perhaps the surest way to reach the pinnacle is to have such a burning desire to get there that nothing can divert us.

TRAVELS BY AIR

Mrs. Jack Paschall enjoyed her first experience of air traveling this week when she flew to San Francisco via United Air Lines on business involving the settling of Mr. Paschall's estate. On the trip she enjoyed short stops at Santa Barbara and Monterey.
